MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 11, 1880.

OCTOBER.

A few more songs and soon these tuneful voices
Over the blue splendor of the Southern Sea
Will sound, where the red tanglers rejoice
Beneath the acacia and the orange tree.
Soon, one by one, the roses now bright and golden
Will turn to dusty brambles by the way.
And stately eaves fall, as from the olden
Rich tapestries the glories fade away.
Slowly the rushes, and the flags of iris,
Drooping, no more their purple banners raise,
And deep, as in the land of dark Osiris,
Stagnates the red light through bars of chrysolite.

A few more days and all this world of flowers,
The light and glory on the land and main,
Will fade, as once on great Aladdin's towers.
The enchantment passed, and all was dark again.
No kindly power, or wand of necromancer,
Can glid with gold the withered fields again,
Nor clarion voice can fill, with joyous answer,
A veil of silence falls on hill and plain.
Yet in the west an orange light is burning,
Where bright heaven's steadfast lamp is lit on high,
And bold Orion comes, each night returning,
With countless worlds, on worlds, beyond the sky.
And love shall live, though all the rocks should crumble,
And with the ever-blooming cypress last,
And warm hands clasp 'round 'till 'till the storm winds rattle,
And joys burn brighter in the wintry blast.
—Sarah D. Clark.

A ROMANCE IN SKELETON.

A calm, delightful Autumn night—
A Moon's mysterious, golden light—
A Maiden at her Window height,
In Robes of pure and fleecy white.
The little Wicket Gate ajar—
A Lover tripping from afar,
With tuncful Voice and light Guitar,
To woo his radiant Gilding Star.
A Lute with soft, infectious Trance—
Oh, how the dotting Lover sang!
A Bull Dog, with Remorseless Fang—
A Nip, a Grip, a Deathly Pang.

Seed Leaf Tobacco.

The New York Market.—Notes of the Trade.
The New York Tobacco Journal, which has a decided tendency to depreciate the market, says: "Seventy-two pennings a pound were obtained for a few hundred cases of good running '79 Pennsylvania in Bremen this week—in U. S. currency something like 12 cents. As more money could have been obtained for the goods in this market, future shipments of '79 Pennsylvania can be regarded as not highly probable. The 1,000 cases of the same crop that left this country a few weeks ago amidst the congratulations of the Lancaster, Pa., press, have safely arrived and are waiting for buyers to turn up. A sale of 1,100 cases of '79 Ohio has also been made at Bremen this week. The price obtained for it is figured down to 72 cents. So much for export."
At home the market has been active. A few curbside brokers again attempted to brag '79 Pennsylvania into prominence, but failed. As a positive sale we note 500 cases at from 14 to 20 cents; as a fiction, or probability, we note 300 more.

The market was visited by a great many city cigar manufacturers, who were looking for Housatonic and state seed tobacco mainly. These crops have become very popular of late. Some assign the cause to the increasing demand for lighter colored cigars and the possession by the crops named of better qualities than can be found in the '79 Pennsylvania.

In '79 Housatonic we note sales of over 1,200 cases, at 18 to 20 cents for running. To this we add sales of 420 cases of '79 Connecticut (comprising general New England crops) at from 15 to 17 cents for running and 124 to 13 cents for seconds. The aggregate of sales of '79 New York state was nearly 200 cases. Some are called "Big Flats," realized as much as 17 cents for running; the market price for state is now between 10 and 13 cents.

Sales of 150 cases of '79 Wisconsin, at 9 1/2 to 11 cents, are also reported. Ohio of the '79 crop remains neglected. The low Pennsylvania and State tobaccos are preferred at even a higher price than that which is being asked for '79 Ohio, which is from 7 to 10 cents.

The '80 crop over the country has turned out magnificently. While in some sections, such as the Housatonic valley, buying has been begun at figures equally as high as those paid last season, it is due only to the small quantity of tobacco that those sections produce and for which there is at all times a certain class of manufacturers ready to buy it; but on the whole no movement toward the securing of the '80 crop has been made. Packers seem at last to realize the fact that buying green tobacco at high figures means ruin to the tobacco trade of the country.

Havana was very active. Sales 1,000 bales, included in which is a sale of 400 bales to an upturn manufacturer. Prices remain unchanged.
Gans's Report.
Sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Gans & Son, tobacco brokers, Nos. 84 and 86 Wall Street, New York, for the week ending, Oct. 11: 1,012 cases 1879 New England seconds, 10 1/2 @ 14c; wrappers, 10 @ 40c; Housatonic assorted, 20 @ 25c; Havana seed, 2 1/2 @ 35c; 1,000 cases 1879 Pennsylvania assorted, 12 @ 21c; wrappers, 12 @ 40c; 200 cases 1879 state "flats," 12 @ 16c; 500 cases 1879 Ohio @ 13 1/2c; 100 cases 1879 Wisconsin, @ 15c. Total, 2,812 cases.

There has been an active demand for all sorts from manufacturers and jobbers, and although (excepting the transfer of a package of Housatonic, belonging to a country packer, and which was disposed of in two parcels) no very large lots changed hands in blocks, the week's result is gratifying.

Trade Notes.

There has been a large business done in seed leaf since our previous report, the sales reaching 3,150 cases. All growths of 1879 tobacco have been in demand, with a very brisk inquiry for Pennsylvania, the appropriations of that variety, summing up, as seen in Messrs. Gans & Co.'s review, 1,500 cases at from 12 1/2 to 37 1/2 cents. The market is in a very sound condition, and the prospect of a good fall trade excellent.

The marriage on Tuesday evening of Mr. David Lachenbruch and Miss Ella Mainhard, of this city, was happily celebrated, according to arrangements, at Standard hall. About three hundred guests were present. When the nuptial ceremony was concluded, the favored participants were regaled with a sumptuous collation in the hall, after which music, speeches, songs, and general enjoyment filled up the interval until the guests withdrew, and the wedded pair retired to make
